Europe-wide coverage of country-specific HTA information

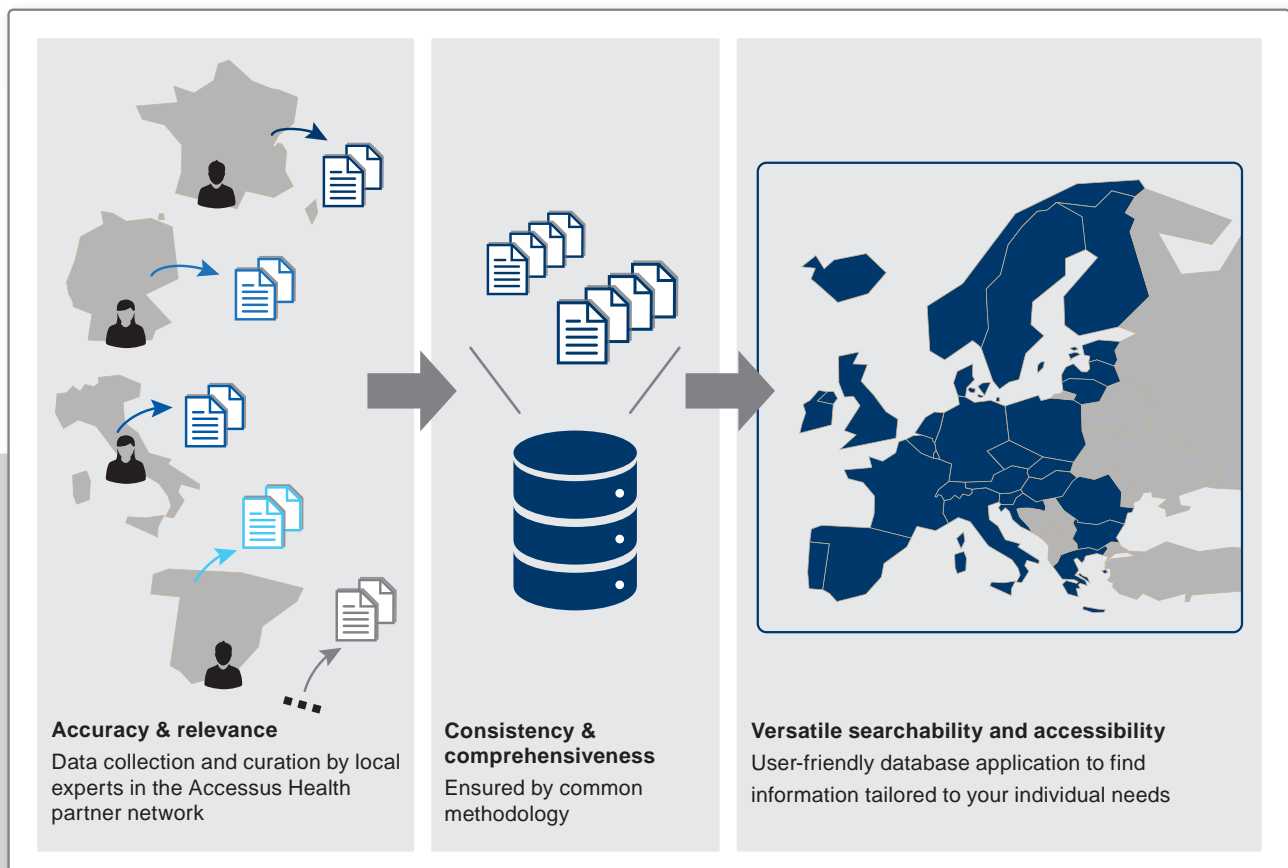

The Accessus network's European HTA database is a comprehensive, Europe-wide database of HTA procedures to support preparation for EU HTA assessments and all European and local market access activities. With data curated by local experts, it provides a reliable, up-to-date overview of relevant HTA and P&R documents, as available for each European country – your ideal starting point for PICO scoping.

Scope

- Document database for HTA procedures from all key European markets
- Both national and EU HTA procedures
- Documents on clinical evidence assessment and P&R (e.g., benefit assessment resolutions, comparative therapy information, reimbursement recommendations/decisions)”
- For all products authorized via centralized procedure (EMA)
- Up-to-date: monthly updates for coverage of the latest procedures

Local expertise, common methodology

This central idea of the Accessus Health network also applies to the European HTA database: The data are curated by local network partners possessing country-specific HTA expertise, following one common methodology, in order to provide you with reliable, comprehensive HTA information across Europe.

Versatile search functionality to answer your specific questions

With its intuitive, flexible options for conducting, filtering, and displaying database searches, the Accessus network's European HTA database can quickly provide you with information tailored to your individual needs – ranging from high-level searches for available HTA procedures across Europe to complex searches to systematically answer detailed questions.

Key functionalities of the database application

- As a web application, the Accessus network's European HTA database is easily accessible from anywhere and anytime via your personal subscription – no installation required.
- Both simple and complex searches can be rapidly conducted via the easy-to-use user interface, to quickly find HTA procedures and access the documents matching your questions.
- For specificity, a variety of search filters and results filters enables targeted searches for HTA documents by, e.g., active substance, therapeutic area, country, time period, document type, and many more.
- For maximum sensitivity, full-text searches of all included HTA documents are possible.
- Different views of the search results providing different granularity can be chosen to best match your specific queries – from high-level graphical or tabular overviews to detailed lists.
- Comprehensive information on the country-specific scope of the database as well as a technical user guide are directly integrated into the application.
- Stay up-to-date with customized alerts: set alerts for specific search queries to be notified automatically once new relevant HTA procedures become available.
